PRESIDENT TAFT SMILES

Eight physicians were present at the September meeting of the Willimantic Medical society, held on Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. Charles H. Girard on Jackson street. The president, Dr. R. C. White, occupled the chair and Dr. Frederick E. Wilcox read a timely and interesting paper on social diseases and their treatment. Following the business meeting, Dr. and Mrs. Girard served a tempting lunch and there was an enjoyable social hour, with music and singing. AT ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME Thousands at Station to Greet Nation's Head, Thursday Afternoon-Brief Speech Delights the Assem-Three thousand people overflowed the platform, crowded along the rail-road tracks and filled the bridge and road tracks and filled the bridge and every other place of vantage to catch a glidipse of President Taft, as his special car rolled into the Williamantic station at the rear end of the 5.56 express Thursday afternoon. The president did not disappoint the crowd in the least. Not only did he step out on the rear platform of his car to give the gathering a chance to view his portly form, but in a two-minute speech he took the opportunity of handing a handsome bouquet of compliments to the Thread city.

The express was seven minutes late,
